Course web page: http://www.mathcs.emory.edu/~benzi/Web_papers/math315.html

            by Ian Gladwell, James G. Nagy and Warren E. Ferguson

Course Policies

Grades:
There will be 2 tests, 5-6 quizzes, 4 homework projects, and a final exam. The lowest quiz score will be dropped. Homework problems will be assigned but will not be collected. Late homework projects will not be accepted. You must notify me one week before the exam if you have a conflict or bring me a note from the Dean to reschedule a test or a quiz. The final grade will be determined as follows:

15% Quizzes  25% Homework  30% Tests  30% Final

Tests:
There will be 2 tests on the following dates:

     Thur., March 6       Thur., April 10

The final exam will be given during the scheduled final exam period, Thur. May 1, 3:00–5:30am.
The date of the final cannot be changed under any circumstances.

Homework:
Students are expected to do all computing assignments using Matlab. Projects will be done in teams to be determined later in the semester. Collaboration is allowed (in fact, expected) within each team, but exchange of information between members of different teams is strictly forbidden.

Honor Code:
All students must adhere to the provisions of the Emory College Honor Code. Lack of knowledge of the academic honesty policy is not an acceptable excuse for a violation.

Other:

- Students are expected to attend classes regularly. If you do miss classes, it is your responsibility to get the lecture notes and announcements from another student.
- Students are not allowed to consult any kind of notes or books on any quiz or exam.
• The use of calculators is not permitted during exams or quizzes, unless specific instructions to the contrary are given.

• ODS: If you need extra accommodations, contact the Office as soon as possible.

• All cell phones and electronic devices must be silenced during the class period. Computers are not allowed in class. Please, no eating or drinking in class, and no leaving the classroom during class unless it’s a genuine emergency.

• If you have questions ask me, not your neighbor.