1. Find a partner (or two) - make sure to introduce yourselves if you don’t already know each other!

2. Make yourselves a cheat sheet. Don’t use your textbooks or notes - just your brains. Everyone in your group should make their own copy, but the content should all be the same. You should include:
   • Important Functions
   • Limits
   • Derivatives